The Agency declined an invitation from Chairman Hughes of the Subcommittee on Crime of the House Judiciary Committee to send a witness to testify on allegations of drug trafficking by the Nicaraguan Resistance. We informed Chairman Hughes that testimony regarding drug trafficking by specific individuals invariably involves sensitive intelligence sources and that testimony involving this type of source-sensitive information has been confined to the Intelligence Committees. We also informed Chairman Hughes that this matter has been reviewed extensively by the House Intelligence Committee, and offered to testify before the House Intelligence Committee to discuss this issue further if that Committee requested our appearance.
